Robbed of Nearly $1,000.

Mr. John W. Hummer, a well-to-do farmer residing on the Blue Ridge mountain near Mt. Airy, was robbed last Thursday night of a bag that contained $995. Mr. Hummer, it appears, has not much faith in banks as a safe depository for his money, and consequently carries all his cash with him in a canvass shot bag. Thursday night he was at the home of a neighbor, Mr. Wm. Hummer, where also were present a number of other persons living nearby, and after spending a short while in conversation, Mr. Hummer took from his pocket his bag of money and very indiscreetly emptied same upon a table, saying as he did so that he would bet anybody that he had more money than any other person present. Nobody accepting the wager, he gathered up the money, replaced it in the bag, and put the bag in his right coat pocket. Shortly afterwards, accompanied by several other parties, he left the house and proceeded up to the mountain top to attend a dance. During the night he had occasion to go to Mt. Airy, and upon returning discovered that his money had been lost or stolen. Mr. Hummer made numerous inquiries regarding his lost property and searched thoroughly every place where he had been.

Unconfirmed news from Mt. Airy says:

On Saturday a young man named Carlisle, son of Mr. Robert Carlisle, presented a piece of gold in payment for some article he had purchased at a store. Mr. Hummer got wind of this, and knowing that young Carlisle had seen him with the bag of money, he went to the young man's father and asked permission to search the premises, at the same time telling him of what he had heard. Mr. Carlisle willingly granted Mr. Hummer's request, and a search of the place revealed the money hid beneath some rocks in the yard. Young Carlisle, upon being accused of the theft, confessed the crime.

This elder Carlisle made good to Mr. Hummer the amount of money the young man had spent.

Hummer swore out a warrant for the younger Carlisle's arrest, but the young man absconded before it could be served.

We understand some of the gold the bag contained has been carried by Mr. Hummer for over 30 years.

A Shooting Mole.

Our colored friends of the Zion Baptist church, of Boyce, gave a festival in the church last Saturday night, at which, like great many affairs of the kind, were present some "bad darkies." On this occasion everything was moving along smoothly and harmoniously, until a dispute arose between two colored men named John Jones and Bob Jackson. Reliable information of what followed being hard to obtain we give what we were able to gather from several colored persons here, the authenticity of which we will not vouch for.

After the passing of a few words between Jones and Jackson, blows were exchanged. Several hard blows proving ineffectual to knock out the latter, Jones drew a pistol and shot Jackson twice, the bullets taking effect in his side and head. Henry Mason then intervened and in trying to subdue Jones was forced to hit him over the head several times with a poker. The fight became general, and it was hard to tell what passed. When peace was restored Jones was found lying outside of the building in a badly bruised condition, where he had been thrown through a window. He also sustained an ugly gash across the throat. Whether any others were hurt we are unable to ascertain, although a large number were engaged in the fight. So far no warrants have been sworn out for the apprehension of any of the participants of the disgraceful affair. We have heard that the condition of Jackson, who was shot, is serious, while the others are doing well.

TAKE NOTICE.

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve meals at any hour of the day in the room formerly occupied by Miss Katie Russell as a store, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday February 6th, 7th, and 8th. The public is asked to patronize the affair.

Representative Amos J. Cummings, of New York, chairman of the Committee on the Library of Congress, has reported favorably the bill of Congressman James Hay for the erection of a monument over the grave of Gen. Daniel Morgan, a Revolutionary hero, who is buried in Mount Hebron Cemetery, Winchester. The amount asked for the monument is $25,000. At present the grave is marked only by a slab, and the inscription can scarcely be deciphered. It has been badly broken and chipped by relic hunters.

Messrs. J. E. Gleason and J. L. Waters, of Charlottesville, Va., and Mr. J. F. Elliott, of Fluvanna, Va., who are interested in an extensive cold storage and ice plant in Charlottesville, has secured a tract of land near the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in Winchester, and it is stated they will begin the erection of a plant similar to the one in Charlottesville in a short time. One of the leading business men in Winchester is also interested in the new company.

Hillyard Havener and Miss Sidney Milburn, of Frederick county, walked 12 miles to Winchester and procured a marriage license. They then went to the Methodist parsonage to be married, but after waiting for over four hours for Rev. Dr. Cox, who was out of town, they went to the Presbyterian parsonage, where they were married by Rev. Dr. James R. Graham. Late in the evening they tramped the bridal tour back home.

The wires of the Winchester Telephone Company and the electric wires of the Charlestown Electric Light Co., in some manner became entangled at a point where they crossed, and James Hall, of the Telephone Company, in attempting to separate the wires Sunday, received a severe shock from the electric current. Hall was unable to walk for several days.

Mr. E. K. Crim, who for many years conducted a general merchandise business at Wadesville, has disposed of his business to U. V. Hunt & Co., who hereafter will run the store. Mr. Crim intends to give most of his attention to farming and the operation of a sawmill.

A number of people here were somewhat alarmed Sunday night by being informed by our efficient postmaster, Mr. Alex. M. Cornick, that he had received a telegram from the Weather Bureau at Washington stating that a blizzard was likely to strike this section of the country late that night. Only the high wind part of the blizzard materialized which began to blow near midnight and prevailed nearly all day Monday. The wind however had a depressing effect upon the thermometer, which fell to 10° above zero Monday morning. The weather on Saturday and part of Sunday was quite a change from that of the preceding three days of the week, when rain, high winds and a low thermometer made things very disagreeable.

The Charlestown Advocate says that definite steps are now being taken for the organization of a high-grade college for young ladies and girls at Charlestown. A stock company has been formed, a board of trustees, consisting of R. P. Chew, A. W. McDonald, Geo. R. Wendling, R. W. Alexander and L. Sonneborn, has been elected, and the fine property known as the Powhatan Hotel, has been purchased and will be converted into a college building. President S. P. Hutton, of Clearmont College, Hickory, N. C., has accepted the Presidency and management of the proposed new institution. It is expected to have all arrangements completed for the opening of the college next September.

WANTED.—Four energetic men to work for the Equitable Life Ins. Co. of N. Y. Good position and pay to right parties. Apply to J. R. LUP-TON, District manager, Harrisonburg, Va.

Dr. W. Wood Gold, who was badly wounded on December 4 last at San Pedro, Honduras, when Capt. John Imboden was killed by a native of Honduras, has written to his brother, Circuit Clerk Philip H. Gold, at Winchester, stating that he is slowly recovering from his wounds, although he is still very weak. All the published reports of the shooting stated that Dr. Gold had been killed, and the letter just received, which is written by him, is the first positive information to reach this country that he is still alive and recovering. We have a letter from one of the relatives of Dr. Gold in this county stating that the report we published last week giving the cause of the shooting of Dr. Gold was unfounded.

Having sold my farm I will sell at public sale at my residence, 6 miles east of Winchester, on the Senessee road near Cains Chapel, a lot of live stock, consisting of horses, cattle, sheep, etc., and a large quantity of farming implements and household furniture. For terms and other information see large handbills.

JOHN L. HAUTMAN.

The funeral of Mr. John K. Louthan, whose death occurred last Tuesday as announced in our columns last week, took place from the Baptist Church Thursday morning. The services were attended by a large number of people of this community, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held. His body was interred in the graveyard adjoining the church. Mr. Louthan is survived by a widow (his second wife) and eleven children—Mrs. Georgia Shopman, and John Louthan, of Washington, Miss Josie Louthan, of Charlestown; and Mrs. Mary Small of Martinsburg; William Louthan, of Jefferson county, Mrs. Lizzie Coleman, Miss Lydia Louthan, and cather, Benton, Elijah and Frank Louthan of this place.

WANTED.—SALESMAN. If you know how to sell goods I want a chance to talk to you possibly I can't show you anything better than you now have, but possibly I can, come to see me. R. BATES CROCKET, at Mrs. Geo. Phillips, East Main St.

Mr. E. Wyatt Baker, a well known druggist and manufacturing chemist, died at his home in Winchester Thursday after a short illness, of paralysis. He had been in ill health for a number of years and on the day of his death was stricken with paralysis. Mr. Baker had been in the drug business in Winchester for a number of years, and also at Havre de Grace, Belair and Baltimore, Md. He was a partner of the manufacturing chemists firm of E. Wyatt Baker & Co., of Winchester. The deceased leaves a mother, one sister, Mrs. Dr. T. C. Williams, and a brother, Robert B. Baker, of Winchester. He also was a cousin of our well known townsman, councilman H. W. Baker.

Through the thoughtfulness of Mr. John H. Shewbridge, of Summit Point, we have several copies of Manila papers. The news is not very fresh, dating back to November 20, 1899, but as souvenirs of newspaper literature from our new possessions, they are very entertaining. Mr. More Shewbridge, son of Mr. John H. Shewbridge, is now in Manila, and is a captain in the United States army there. We hope he will cover himself with glory and return unscathed.—Charlestown Advocate.

Mr. G. T. Knight last week received an offer for his services from a large retail furniture house in Philadelphia, at a very flattering salary. Of course Mr. K. declined the offer, as his business here requires his constant attention, but, all the same, it goes to show that his business qualities are known of elsewhere than at home.—Charlestown Free Press.

Confederate Camps Meet.

The J. E. B. Stuart Camp of Confederate Veterans held their regular monthly meeting in Camp Hall last Saturday evening. Mr. R. Powel Page presided. Among those present were a number of Sons of Confederate Veterans, to whom an invitation had been extended by the Camp to attend their meetings, and which was accepted by them with much pleasure as declared in behalf of the Camp of "Sons" by Mr. Blackburn Smith, who made a short address in response to calls.

The subject of the amount of capitation tax due the Grand Camp was discussed to some length, and as a result a resolution was passed in structing the chair to appoint a committee, whose duty it is to examine the roster of the camp and report the names of all members who are in good standing. The amount of capitation tax will be determined by the report of this committee, as the camp only intends to pay for and report the names of those members whose dues are paid in full to date. The committee consists of Messrs. A. Moore, Jr., J. R. Costleman and Jos. Price.

Messrs. C. W. Hardesty, Wm. E. Reed and Capt. Thompson were appointed by the chair to constitute a new relief committee.

Upon the suggestion of Mr. A. Moore, Jr., the camp instructed the chair to appoint a committee to co-operate with other committees that may be appointed by other Confederate organizations of the county in making arrangements for the unveiling of the monument to be erected to the memory of Clarke county's sons, who lost their lives in the Confederate service, and for the entertainment of the guests on that occasion. The committee is Messrs. A. Moore, Jr., R. O. Allen and Joseph Price.

Great stress was laid upon the necessity of having an accurate and entire list of names to be inscribed upon the monument, and in order to prevent the omission of any name that should be included on the list it is earnestly requested of all persons who know of any names that should appear on the monument, to communicate same to Mr. Joseph Price, Berryville, Va.

The list, heretofore published, will be revised, and then appear in our columns again.

The regular meeting of the J. E. B. Stuart Camp, Sons of C. V., convened Saturday evening immediately after the adjournment of the meeting of the Confederate Veterans. In the absence of Commander Grigsby, John R. Crown was called to the chair. Upon motion of Mr. Blackburn Smith, which was seconded and carried, all previous committees, appointed to consider applications for membership, were discharged and a new committee was appointed to determine the eligibility of all candidates for membership. Mr. Smith and Dr. Hardesty were named to consider all such applications then before the camp, and they reported favorably upon the admission of Messrs. Eugene Glover, John F. Thompson and Hugh H. McDonald, which action of the committee was ratified by the camp. After transacting the routine business, nominations of officers of camp were then made. The election will be held at its next regular meeting.

These elections are generally attended with much excitement and entered into with a great deal of spirit and enthusiasm by friends of the many candidates. As more than one candidate is nominated for all the important offices, there will be, as a prominent member expresses it, "a hot time when the Sons get together next time."

Married in A Buggy.

Miss Annie C. Henson and Mr. George M. Racey, members of well known families, were married at Stephens City Tuesday night last under unusual circumstances. The bride (who is 19) and the groom drove to Winchester that morning for a marriage license, but as the bride was under age the groom was informed that some one would have to attest her age as 21 years. For over six hours he hunted about the town for a friend to help. Meanwhile the bride was left sitting in the buggy, where she attracted notice by her long wait. Finally the groom was successful, and together they started for home. When Stephen City was reached they made inquiry for a minister, and were directed to Rev. J. C. Thrasher, of the Methodist Episcopal Church when the minister invited them into the parsonage the young couple said they wished to be married in the buggy. A large crowd had gathered, and the ceremony was performed in the road, after which the groom took his bride, who was very pretty and handsomely dressed, to her home.

The announcement here last Tuesday of the serious illness of Hon. Marshall McCormick was received with much regret and sorrow throughout the community. Mr. McCormick recently went to Clifton Springs, N. Y., to seek rest from his arduous legal practice, hoping that a short stay there would benefit his health. While Mr. McCormick is a very sick man, his condition is not as serious as first feared, and the latest advices from his bedside state that he is improving.

Maj. E. H. McDonald, of Charlestown, spent several days in town last week.

Mr. Robt. Adcock, of Mannington, W. Va., spent part of last week with his parents here.

Mr. Edgar Moore, of Washington, was in town last week.

Mr. Duncan Milton, of Harrisonburg, was here last week visiting his parents.

Mr. Daniel Hellebaker was a pleasant paying caller at the Courthouse office last week. Mr. Hellebaker is as good a payee as he is an auctioneer, and everybody knows he is the best auctioneer in the county.

Mrs. J. R. Nunn left home on Wednesday last to visit friends and relatives in Luray, Richmond and Baltimore, and will be absent till the latter part of February.

We enjoyed a chat on Monday with Mr. H. T. Wharton, of Front Royal, who was in Berryville that day in interest of a harness and saddle firm of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Wharton had his name placed on the COURIER'S subscription book before leaving.

Mr. S. F. Baughman, Jr., spent several days in Baltimore last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Siler, of Berkeley Springs, are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. A. R. Costleman.

Dr. C. E. Lippitt has returned from Alexandria, where he has been visiting for several weeks.

Cave Discovered.

The Washington Post publishes the following dispatch from its Berryville correspondent, under date of January 29th:

Considerable excitement has been created in this vicinity by the discovery of a large cave on the farm of Mrs. Nellie W. Dortch and her sister, Miss Sellina Williams. The latter is known to the literary world as "Tarpole Star."

The story of the find is almost as strange as the discovery itself, but it is vouched for by Henry A. Williams, Mrs. Dortch's brother.

Mrs. Dortch was recently visiting friends in Baltimore. Stopping at the same house was an old blind woman, recently from Scotland, whom Mrs. Dortch was told had recently foretold a number of curious things. In just one day she told the blind woman to tell her where she could find a fortune on her Virginia farm.

The old woman, after a few minutes pause, described the farm accurately, and told Mrs. Dortch to dig beneath an ancient spring and a large tree, where, she said, a cave would be found, and in it a well, human bones and a chest filled with treasure.

So impressed was Mrs. Dortch with what had been told her that upon her return here she told her family and digging was begun two weeks ago. The cave was found and in it the well and bones, just as foretold.

The cave contains several quite large rooms, and work is now being pushed steadily, in the hope that the treasure chest may be unearthed.

Millwood Gossip.

William Catlett, eldest son of Hon. B. W. Catlett, of Berry's Ferry, Va., narrowly escaped being drowned, while crossing the river Tuesday morning in a small skip. As he neared the river bank the boat pole broke, and thinking the water was shallow he jumped out of the boat, intending to wade ashore. Instead of being shallow the water was very deep, and Mr. Catlett swam until exhausted, and was sinking for the last time, when Mr. Edward Lindsey came to his rescue. Both young men were in an exhausted condition when they reached dry ground.

The sudden death of Mr. Thomas Russell has thrown a gloom over Millwood. He will be missed by everybody, especially the young men of the place, who always found a good friend in him. We hear that several offers have been made for the drug store, but nothing definite has been arranged.

Once more we are to hear the din of the old Boston Mill. Mr. Joseph Bowles, its owner, is having great improvements made. Mr. George A. Sander, assisted by Messrs. Wm. Renner and Thompson doing the work. H. P. Smith is patiently waiting for the time to come when he can grind, crush, and flax corn into any shape, and when the improvements spoken of are completed he respectfully solicits the kind patronage of his many Clarke friends.

A Cutting Affray.

George Ashby, a young white man who bears a bad reputation, was brought before Justice Crow last Wednesday to answer a warrant sworn out by Mr. Logan Ballinger, who charges Ashby with assault. A number of witnesses were examined by the Justice, and the evidence showed that on the night of January 19th Ashby entered the store of the late Mrs. E. C. Cameron at Gaylord and after tussling with several young men walked up to Ballinger, who was seated upon a counter, and with no provocation threw him backwards over the counter. Ballinger resented this rough treatment, and after making several passes at each other with their fists, Ashby pulled a knife out of his pocket and slashed Ballinger across the right forehead and in the breast. Ballinger grabbed his assailant's arm and prevented further cutting, while Ashby held Ballinger fast by the coat collar. After some ugly language by Ashby, the men relaxed their hold upon each other and Ashby left the store. Ballinger also claims that Ashby boasted more than once that he would kill him. Justice Crow sent the accused back to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Ashby was captured by Sheriff Smallwood, assisted by Constable Rust and several others, in the barn on the farm of Mrs. Arthur Allen just across the West Virginia line, and only surrendered when commanded to do so at the point of a pistol. While confined in the jail here some years ago, he knocked the wife of the jailor down and escaped, and since that time he has been a fugitive from justice. He is wanted in Jefferson county for several offences committed there, and we are told that the officers of that county were taking steps to capture him, when he got into the difficulty at Gaylord with Ballinger.

Dr. A. B. Earle Is Dead.

Dr. Archibald B. Earle, who came to Kansas City fifty one years ago, died yesterday afternoon of pneumonia, at his home at 2638 East Seventh street. When Dr. Earle came to Kansas City it was little more than a row of ware houses along the banks of the Missouri river.

Dr. Earle was born in Clarke county, Va., seventy eight years ago. After being graduated from a William and Mary College the government appointed him to come to Kansas City, then Westport Landing, to doctor the Shawnee Indians, among whom cholera was raging.

After his government position expired he remained here to practice medicine. The city grew and he accumulated a great deal of property, much of which he lost later. He once owned a drug store at Ninth and Prospect avenues. He retired from practice six years ago. Dr. Earle was married twice but he had no children. His first wife was a daughter of Judge John Ryland of Lexington, Mo. His second wife is still living. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the family home. He will be buried in Forest Hill cemetery.—Kansas City Star.

The late Dr. Earle was a brother of the late A. M. Earle, of the White Post neighborhood and has many relatives and friends now residing in this and Warren counties.

Oyster Supper.

An oyster supper will be held at Jordan's Springs on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, February 20 and 21, by the Epworth League of Burnt Factory Church. The proceeds of the affair will be exclusively devoted to the use of the church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Having a Great Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Manager Martin, of the Pierson drugstore, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of la grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief within a very short time. The sales are growing, and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet. For sale by W. Richardson druggist.
